Ohio Files New Plea for U.S. Highway Funds

Congressman Urged To Oppose Cutoff Threatened by Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director Everett S. Preston sent another plea to Ohio's congressmen today to do whatever they can to stop a threatened cutoff of federal funds for interstate road projects.

Normally, the federal government would tell Ohio's Highway Department sometime in July or August: "We promise that when the next fiscal year starts in 11 or 12 months, there will be thus-and-such many million dollars for you to draw on as you need it."

That promise was given just about a year ago for the fiscal year that starts in 11 days. And the Highway Department has already committed the entire available amount—around 160 million dollars—to interstate road-building projects.

What's more Ohio has committed an additional 40 million of its own dollars.

The state expected to get the 40 million back as part of whatever amount the federal government promised this July or August for use after July 1, 1960.

But that's where the trouble starts; trouble Preston hopes Ohio senators and representatives can head off.

At the moment, Congress does not plan to make any money promises to Ohio (or any other state) in July or August. It doesn't plan to allocate any money for fiscal 1961.

The fund from which the money comes is empty. And Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) has an amendment to the 1956 Congressional Highway Act which would not allow allocations unless there is enough money in the fund.

If Congress accepts the amendment, Ohio probably won't be promised any more money until this time next year, and it will be better than two years before it can touch any more federal interstate project dollars.

Even then, the amount would probably be somewhere between 25 and 30 per cent of what Ohio has been getting, probably just about enough to pay back the state kitty for the 40 million already committed.

Preston, who has stopped all contract-letting for interstate projects, points out that Ohio doesn't need any money until a year from July—it merely needs the federal government's promise now that the money will be there to use from time-to-time after July 1, 1960.

Previous pleas to Washington by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Preston have gotten only lukewarm response from most Ohio congressmen. The only promises to try to keep the program going have come from Democratic Reps. Walter H. Moeller (Lancaster), Thomas L. Ashley (Waterloo) and Robert W. Levering (Fredericktown), and Republican Frank T. Bow (Canton).

Others have, however, promised to support any feasible plan. The latest appeal is again in letter form, and each letter lists the interstate projects expected to be affected in the congressman's home territory.

It points out that Ohio is more extensively committed to the program than any other state "because we have, in compliance with the expressed desire of Congress, accelerated the construction program . . ."

Preston said he is trying to keep his schedule relatively open in the near future on the chance he may go to Washington personally.

Towns Cats Dying; Rats Multiply Fast

HUITZCO, Mexico (AP)—Cats in this town are dying and the rats threaten to take over. Residents attribute the numerous cat deaths to fumigations in an anti-malaria campaign.

The rats are multiplying fast and are invading fields, barns and homes.

As a result of the cat shortage, the price of kittens has gone up to 80 cents.

Buckeye Boys State Closing As Girls State Gets Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is graduation day at Buckeye Boys State in Athens and registration day at Buckeye Girls State in Columbus.

The 1,050 high school boys attending the American Legion's 10-day school in self-government will each receive a lapel pin and certificate at graduation ceremonies.

The graduation address will be given by Robert H. Bangham of Columbus, a former president of the Boys State Board of Trustees.

Two boys will be named at the exercises to attend the Legion's Boys Nation in Washington, D. C., July 17-24.

Awards will be made to the outstanding boy in state government, to the top-rated county and city at Boys State and to four boys working in the judicial field.

The youthful lawmakers have been conducting the affairs of the imaginary government on the Ohio University campus.

When they leave today, they'll have participated in an exercise in which almost 18,000 boys have taken part over the past 22 years.

The Boys State General Assembly adjourned Friday after the House defeated a bill to legalize and licensed gambling, and passed a bill calling for placement of flasher signals at all unprotected railroad crossings.

Gov. Tom Logan of Columbus said the Senate completed action on 15 bills and five joint resolutions, including one act setting up a Boys State budget for next year.

As Boys State folded its "tents" until next year, a female counterpart organization was getting ready for a similar exercise 75 miles to the northwest.

At Columbus, 860 high school girls, also full-bent on eight days of politicking, began unloading their gear today and registering for Buckeye Girls State on the Capital University campus.

With their number increased from 804 last year, the Girls Staters also will create an imaginary state government, complete with two counties and 18 cities.

Employing the two-party system—the Federals and the Nationalists, the same as at Boys State—the girls will vie for the job of governor and other state, county and city positions.

Girls State, sponsored by the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, will attract lassies from 87 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Chillicothe Holds Hearing on Slaying

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A service station operator testified Friday that he heard shots at the frozen custard stand next to the frozen custard stand and drive away on May 31.

Then he found the body of Britton's wife, Parnell, 51, said Richard Dennewitz, of Rt. 8, Chillicothe, at a preliminary hearing in the first-degree murder case against Britton, 54, accused of the slaying.

Prosecutor Robert Perdue said the April session of the grand jury will probably be reconvened, possibly next month, to consider the charges against Britton, a local electrician.

Snubbed in Assembly

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—"Sorry, lady, there's just no seats up here," said the Senate assistant sergeant-at-arms.

So California's First Lady, Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, stood in the rear of the Senate gallery Friday night.

The embarrassed guard quickly led Mrs. Brown to a seat after someone told him who she was.

Louisiana Officials Feud Over Who Is No. 1 Boss

For Sixth Time Under Ike, National Debt Limit Is Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the sixth time since President Eisenhower took office in 1953, the House has passed a bill raising the ceiling on the national debt.

This time it is a peacetime top of 295 billion dollars. That was exceeded only by a temporary ceiling of 300 billion dollars during World War II, but the actual debt then was smaller than it is today.

Grumbling and blame-laying, House members Friday sent the booster bill to the Senate by a vote of 255-117. There it is expected to run into further opposition, but pass in the end.

Heavy House opposition meant protests in both Republican and Democratic parties over increased government borrowing at a time when the budget already is 13 billion dollars in the red.

House leaders who backed the bill noted that some nay votes were cast by members who have been among the strongest supporters of big spending measures.

"Some of the fellows wanted to claim at least one economy vote on their record," one Democratic leader observed.

It was the third time in the past 18 months that President Eisenhower has requested a raise in the debt ceiling.

House leaders said that a fiscal emergency exists, and that failure to vote the Treasury more borrowing power would endanger the government's credit and solvency.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), floor manager of the bill, said the bill must become law by midnight June 30 if the government is to meet obligations falling due in excess of the present debt limit.

The 295 billion top is a temporary one-year ceiling. It would revert on June 30, 1960, to a new "permanent" limit of 285 billions.

It is expected the Treasury will seek another temporary rise at that time.

The present permanent limit is 283 billions. The present temporary limit, in effect until June 30 of this year, is 288 billions.

The actual debt currently stands at around 286 billion dollars.

Democrats blamed the situation on the administration's tight money policy. They said it restricted credit and contributed to the 1957-58 recession.

Republicans blamed what they called Democratic "spenders and budget busters."

Some members of both parties urged mandatory budget balancing and annual payments to reduce the debt.

Akron Man Uses Hammer In Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said 30-year-old Floyd Hyde beat one woman to death with a hammer and injured the woman's mother seriously early today.

While being questioned in the attack, for which there was no immediate explanation, Hyde tried to jump out a third floor window at police headquarters here, detectives said.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Nina Reese, 32, former wife of Carl Reese, a disc jockey with Cleveland radio station (WERE).

In critical condition at Akron General Hospital with head injuries was Mrs. Anna Myrtle Albritten, 62.

Tom Albritten, Mrs. Reese's brother, said his sister had asked him to come to the house Friday night, telling him only that she was expecting trouble. Albritten said he was in the house and heard a commotion in the kitchen.

He told police he went to the kitchen and saw Hyde chasing the women around the kitchen, swinging the hammer at them.

Albritten said he chased Hyde outside and struggled with him but that Hyde escaped.

Hyde was picked up later by police.

At the station, police said, Hyde broke a window but was held back by metal bars. He was taken to St. Joseph Hospital for treatment.

Court Action Threatened if Lt. Gov. Acts

Ailing Governor Plans Action To Free Self From Mental Clinic

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana officials were at loggerheads today as to who was the state's chief executive since Gov. Earl Long indicated he may be plotting another court battle to free himself from court-ordered treatment in a mental hospital.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazier, a friend of the 63-year-old ailing governor, said he wants legal advice before formally taking over as acting governor. Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr., a political enemy of Long, said he would continue to recognize Long as governor. He challenged Frazier's right to take over without formal certification of Long's inability to act.

"Governor Long has been irresponsible for some time but there has been no legal declaration of that," Martin said.

Long called for legal counsel from his ward at the Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville, 54 miles to the east of this capital city where he and his brother, the late Huey P. Long, began thriving on peppy politics in the 1920s.

State police and sheriff's deputies overpowered the cursing, fighting governor Thursday night and rushed him to Mandeville. A physician and a psychiatrist said he suffered from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution.

Long had just skipped out on an agreement for voluntary treatment in New Orleans. The agreement had nullified a Texas court fight by effecting his Wednesday release from a Galveston psychiatric clinic. He had been held in the clinic 19 days by court order.

Martin said he would challenge Frazier in court if the 54-year-old former president of McNeese State College attempted to act as governor.

Frazier said he would not shirk his duty if an emergency develops. But he wants legal advice before formally taking over.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion said Frazier could take over. Martin disagreed, saying the court order that sent Long to Mandeville did not declare the governor's inability to act. Long himself or some official body, Martin said, first must certify Long's inability.

Frazier named Gremlion as one of his attorneys.

Martin was ousted by Long in 1956 as state insurance commissioner and custodian of voting machines. Since then the two have been bitter enemies.

Long's request for legal aid was announced by Jesse Bankston, state director of hospitals.

"Louisiana mental health laws give the patient certain legal rights and privileges," he said.

There was no comment from Mrs. Long, who sanctioned the commitment papers both at Galveston and Mandeville.

Ohio Air Guard Joins Exercise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As far as the Ohio Air National Guard is concerned, enemy troops now occupy most of the southeastern United States.

The fictitious invasion is part of a two-day simulated combat exercise in which the air guard's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing will throw F84F Thunderstreak jets against imaginary enemy positions in Indiana.

The actual target area to be used by fighter-bombers from Columbus, Mansfield and Springfield is the Attlebury Bombing Range in Indiana. The aerial war games started today and end late Sunday afternoon.

Liquor License Take Sets All-Time High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Local governments received a record amount of Ohio liquor license money this year, Auditor James A. Rhodes reported Friday. With more than 24 million dollars distributed during the final quarter, 929 wet municipalities and townships received a total of $9,010,368 during the bookkeeping year ending this month. The sum, which comes from liquor permit holders' license fees, is $739,147 higher than last year's.

Red Push Is Seen For Summit Talks

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today recessed their conference until July 13 without breaking the East-West deadlock on Berlin.

Western officials forecast a new Soviet drive for the summit following the failure of the talks. They said Soviet Premier Khrushchev is trying to frighten the Western powers into a summit conference instead of offering concessions on Berlin as a lure to the West.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other Western diplomats are reported to have decided two weeks ago that this was Khrushchev's strategy. Western interest in breaking off the negotiations here dates from that time.

The West came to Geneva believing it held one trump card—Khrushchev's desire for a summit meeting.

In Herter's view, the foreign ministers' conference took a bad turn about two weeks ago when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed a one-year time limit on Western occupation of West Berlin. The West denounced this as a Soviet ultimatum.

The negotiating line followed here by Gromyko is regarded by the Western leaders as having borne out their estimate of Khrushchev's strategy. They think it probably means the Soviet Premier considers the Western position weak and feels he doesn't have to bargain away anything to get a summit conference.

One reason for such a conclusion would be the obvious split in the Western camp between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Eisenhower has taken the position that nothing produced so far by the Geneva conference justifies a summit session. Macmillan believes, as he has all along, that failure here makes a meeting at the summit even more necessary.

Reviewing the six weeks of negotiations here, Western authorities insisted that Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville had given away nothing of substance to the Russians.

The they did not want to remain here any longer and watch the Russians try to whittle down the Western position on Berlin without offering any concessions of their own.

The Western decision to break off the negotiations was made firm yesterday after Gromyko introduced new compromise proposals for a Berlin settlement.

Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville decided that in spite of some revised language, the Soviet proposal was just as unacceptable as the earlier one.

In their view, Khrushchev and Gromyko had not changed their insistence on forcing the Western powers out of Berlin and this was the crucial issue.

Commerce Agency Gets Another Jolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The historic Senate vote of no confidence in Lewis L. Strauss has given a new jolt to a Commerce Department high command already beset by uncertainty.

The 49-46 Senate vote rejecting Strauss as secretary of commerce came as the secretary's office faced a prospect of personnel cuts by Congress.

High officials said 51 employees out of a total of about 300 in the secretary's office have been put on notice that their jobs may be abolished on June 30. These notices went out after the House voted to cut $440,000 from the $2,940,000 President Eisenhower asked for running the office.

Earlier this week the Senate Appropriations Committee voted to restore $260,000 but the question is still up in the air, but even so, some 25 employees would have to be fired.

There was speculation that with Strauss on his way out the House might now be willing to provide more salary money. But it was unlikely the amount finally voted would exceed the Senate figure.

Many Senators felt that Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) furnished the vital momentum that brought rejection of Strauss' appointment.

Johnson had kept his position on Strauss a secret until the final hours of the months-long nomination battle. Then, Senate participants said, he went all out to line up the vote against him.

Fronzizi Wins Round in Argentine Tiff

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Arturo Fronzizi remains president of Argentina after surmounting—at least temporarily—the gravest crisis of his 14-month administration.

But the price he paid remains to be seen.

Following waves of tension touched off by military plotters, a meeting of top army brass Friday night voted confidence in the president's war ministry.

Fronzizi, grim faced and tired, met newsmen to say he was still performing his presidential duties. But he did not indicate what concession he made the militarists for their support.

Announcement also was made that two alleged leaders of the plot had agreed to submit to detention on sedition charges.

They were Rear Adm. Arturo Rial, hero of the revolution that overthrew ex-dictator Juan Peron, and retired Lt. Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arana. The government ordered their arrest Wednesday, but security forces had been unable to find them.

Informed sources said Rial and Ossorio Arana led a military group that felt Fronzizi had not dealt severely enough with Peron backers. They were said to have demanded the ouster of all government officials with Peronist leanings.

Many union leaders are Peronistas or Communists.

6 Negro Boys Held in Rape Of White Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—Six Negro youths, aged 14 to 17 have been arrested in the Corona, Queens, school yard rape of a 14-year-old white girl. She was attacked three times.

The victim, a pretty blonde eighth grader in the junior high school, was assaulted Thursday night after attending a recreation program at the school. Her name was withheld by police.

The girl identified as her assailants John Rich, 16, Edward Jacobs, 17, and Jacob Bethea and Henry Stokes, both 16. All four were charged with rape.

Police said Rich and Bethea admitted holding the girl down while the others attacked her. Rich is employed as a messenger boy. The others were students at the Brooklyn Automotive School.

All four will be arraigned today in Ridgewood Felony Court.

Arraigned Friday and charged with juvenile delinquency were a 14-year-old and 15-year-old boy. Their names were not made public.

The 14-year-old, accused of being the lookout, was a student in a school for problem children. The 15-year-old was a student at Flushing, Queens, High School.

The Corona section's population is about equally divided between white and Negroes. An unidentified detective told newsmen:

"There was nothing racial about the attack. It was just a punk kid trying to prove himself in front of his friends."

Rape is punishable by a prison sentence in New York State.

The meeting was called to order by vice president Elaine Hutzler. Pledges to flags were led by Janice Imler, songs by Elissa Evans, scripture by Lynn Yinger and prayer by Sandy Ward.

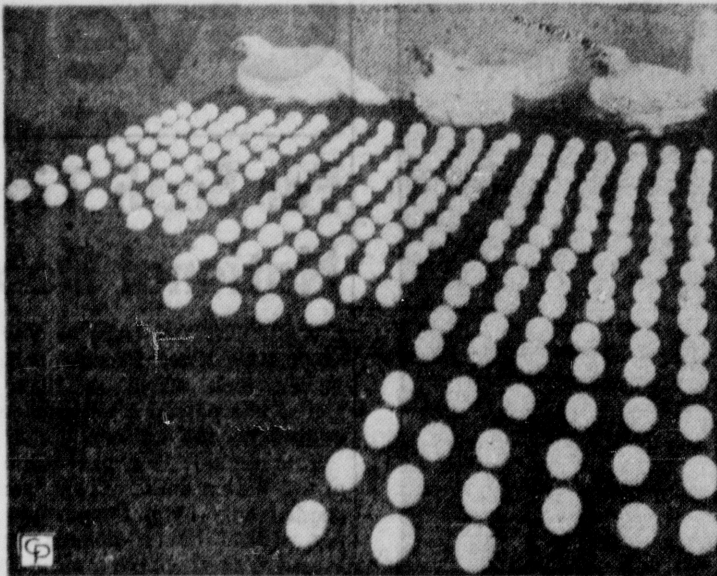

Secretary report was read by Ann Hoffman and roll call was answered by how much was accomplished on projects. New and old business was discussed.

Demonstrations were given as follows: How to carry and handle a sharp knife by Gloria Curl;

Beak-to-claw check before beginning a pampered life as a feed-palatability test subject. Several breeds of chicks jostle for feed. More assertive ones usually become best layers.

EGGS PERIMENTS PAY OFF—In 1958 United States hens laid enough eggs to circle the globe 7½ times. This was half again as many as were laid in 1930, but they were laid by only 10 per cent more hens. However, experts at Nutrena Mills' research farm at Elk River, Minn., figure U. S. hens, now turning out 5 billion dozen eggs annually, must produce an additional 1.8 billion dozen eggs a year by 1975 just to keep pace with the population. The average layer in 1945 produced 122 eggs annually on 74 pounds of feed; today's biddy turns out 198 eggs a year on only 64 pounds of feed, due to active research in selective poultry breeding and improved feed formulas. Nutrena men contend an annual production of 264 eggs for every hen is obtainable.

Three 'sisters' produced strikingly different totals of eggs during 100-day test. Special formula helped one on right. (Central Press)

Livestock, Poultry Health Subject of Wooster Event

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The importance of keeping livestock and poultry in a healthy condition, not only for the benefit of the animals but for humans, will be emphasized during Animal and Poultry Health Day July 8 at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

This day is unprecedented in the history of field events open to the public, according to Director L. L. Rummell. Research on beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, and turkeys will be discussed. In former years separate field events were scheduled for each class of livestock work.

The morning program, starting at 10 a. m., Daylight Savings Time, will permit farmers to hear talks on their special interest. Discussions on beef will be held at the beef units of the station and on dairy cattle at the Dairy Center. Hog farmers will meet at the W. L. Robison Swine Center near Apple Creek. Sheep growers will congregate at the farm on Route 76, and turkey growers will hear about new research at the turkey unit on the main farm.

Research veterinarians will take part in the livestock programs which cover their fields of study. Dr. M. R. Clarkson, deputy administrator with the Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will speak in the afternoon. Clarkson, a doctor of veterinary medicine, will speak on "Healthier Livestock and Poultry".

Also on the afternoon program will be Director Rummell, and Prof. W. R. Krill, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Ohio State University.

FOR THE FIRST time since they have been in operation, the isolation units used by the Department of Veterinary Science will be opened to the public. These animal laboratories are used to investigate diseases, some of which can be transmitted to people. Under unusual circumstances, no one is admitted but trained workers; therefore, special arrangements will be made for the field day.

Good nutrition and management are related to health. In all the programs at the special farms, the newest facts of feeding and improving rations to step up rate of gain and lower costs will be explained by researchers, Director Rummell says.

The afternoon program in the maintenance building will start at 1:30 p. m. following lunch which will be available on the grounds.

Exhibits on animal production and diseases will be prepared by the cooperating departments, which include veterinary science, animal science, dairy science, and poultry science.

Pickaway County farmers who are interested in attending this event with the county group should contact George Hamrick or the office of the Pickaway County Extension Service at 159½ E. Main St., or phone GR 4-5828.

Ohio River Traffic Ebbs

'58 Barge Total Dips Sharply from 1957

CINCINNATI (AP)—The recession hit Ohio River barge traffic an 8-million-ton blow in 1958. Army engineers said today, reporting volume as 73,476,894 tons for the year against a record 81.5 million tons carried in 1957.

The figure likewise was some 3 million tons below 1956 when 76,376,733 tons were barged along the 981-mile waterway. Even so, declared Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley, Army division engineer, it represented a 10-year gain of more than 30 million tons over 1948. In that year 42,792,487 tons of traffic were reported. Ten years before that, in 1938, tonnage totaled 20,587,402.

Ton mileage—a calculation based upon the transportation of one ton of cargo over one mile of river—dropped from 17,209,734,410 to 15,891,977,535. However, average haul of all commodities, based on the ton-mile figure, increased 6.3 miles from 210 in 1957 to 216.3 in 1958.

Coal suffered most but continued to lead the big parade up and down the river—38,017,990 tons against 44,655,056 tons in 1957.

A drop-off in iron and steel tonnage also reflected the critical effects of the recession upon the construction industries. Shipments in this category, ranging from scrap metal and ten-penny nails to structural units, rails and pipe, fell from 4,525,993 tons in 1957 to 3,302,200 tons last year.

For the first time, miscellaneous freight shipments topped steel in the year's figures. Miscellaneous cargoes, ranging from dry groceries, paper stock and gains to automobiles, electronic equipment and railroad ties, aggregated 4,403,953 tons, up 814,708 tons over 1957.

Crude oil and other petroleum shipments almost held their own, totaling 16,105,288 tons, only 500,000 tons less than the record 16,644,014 of the year before.

Only One Ohio Solon Votes for Wheat Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrat Robert E. Cook was the only Ohio representative to vote for the compromise wheat surplus control bill which was defeated Thursday in the House, 214-202. The rest of the Ohio delegation voted against the measure.

The delegation split, 12-10, in favor of a $3,542,600,000 foreign aid authorization bill which the House passed 271-142 and sent to the Senate.

Voting for the foreign aid bill were Democrats Ashley, Cook, Feighan, Hays, Kirwan, Levering and Vanik, and Republicans Ayres, Baumhart, Bolton, Hess and Schenck.

Voting against the bill were Republicans Betts, Bow, Brown, Devine, Henderson, Latta, McCulloch, Minshall and Scherer, and Democrat Moeller.

Tennessee Ernie Gives Views About Boys on Father's Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Keep a hold of a boy's hand, and he ain't going to hurt nothing," "cept maybe snakes."

That's the keynote for Father's Day, offered by the famed philosopher and father, Tennessee Ernie Ford. Ole Ernie was relaxing between rehearsals for his Thursday night NBC-TV show and talking serious-like about his two boys, Buck, 9, and Brian, 7.

"They're all boys, and I want to keep them that way," he commented. "That's why we're going to pull out of this town in a couple of years."

What's that? Leave Hollywood while he's riding the crest of popularity?

"Yes, we've bought us 15 acres up north, back of the Stanford campus," he said. "Come late 1960 or early 1961, we'll start building a house on the property. Then we'll move the whole family up there."

Ernie argued that with jet travel, he can reach Hollywood from San Francisco in less than an hour. The reason for the move, he said, was to give his two sons more of the kind of upbringing he had as a youngster.

"Why, back at my home, I could run out the back door and keep going as far as I could run, and it would still be open fields," he said. "It's hard to find that kind of country today, but at least I can get my kids out of the city and keep an eye on them."

"That's the important thing—to be with your kids. The boys and I do a lot of fishing together, and we go up to our ranch in northern California as much as we can. This summer my wife and the boys and I are going to get in the car and start driving. We'll tour all over the West, just fishing and playing golf and seeing the sights."

Westfall Hires Three Teachers

The Westfall Board of Education today announced the hiring of three teachers for the 1959-60 school year.

Mrs. Betsy Horky, 114 Mingo St., was employed to teach English at Jackson Twp. High School. Miss Sondra Moody, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, will teach the newly added second grade at Williamsport school.

Mrs. Nell Ater, Clarksburg, was hired to instruct the combination 3, 4 and 5 grades at Williamsport. Mrs. Ater replaces Mrs. Marjorie Pickering who resigned to seek employment closer to her home.

Mrs. Ater holds a cadet teaching certificate from Ohio State University. Mrs. Horky replaces Earl Bowser, who resigned. Miss Moody replaces Mrs. Phyllis Hoskins.

MRS. HORKY is a graduate of West Liberty State College, West Liberty, W. Va., with a B. S. degree in education. She taught two years at Shadyside, near Wheeling, W. Va.

Miss Moody is a 1957 graduate of Monroe Twp. High School and holds a cadet teaching certificate from Ohio University, Athens.

The Westfall Board met Monday and interviewed four applicants for the position of supervising principal at Monroe Twp. This vacancy was created by the resignation of Loren Straight.

Janitor applicants for Darby Twp. school were also interviewed. The 1948 Jackson Twp. High School graduating class was granted permission to use the Jackson cafeteria for its reunion.

Ashes of Bishop Returned to Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The ashes of Bishop Ralph A. Ward, an eastern missionary leader who died last Dec. 10 in Hong Kong, will be interred Sunday in his native Ohio.

Memorial services will be held at 3:30 p. m. at the Huntington Methodist Church near Wellington. Bishop Hazen G. Werner, resident bishop of the Ohio Area of the Methodist Church, will have charge of the services.

Bishop Ward, bishop of Hong Kong and Formosa, was a native of Leroy in Medina County. He was imprisoned by the Japanese for three years during World War II. He was 76.

There is no written language among the natives of French, British and what was Italian Somaliland. The Somalis speak a thousand and one native dialects.

Wheat Scab Is Injurious; Seed Treatment Is Helpful

Wheat scab can be identified in the field by the appearance of white heads or parts of heads shortly after blossoming when the rest of the heads are still green.

The wheat head or portion has a actual appearance of ripening prematurely. No kernels or only badly shriveled ones are produced in the affected parts. In addition to blasted heads, this fungus also causes a seedling blight of wheat which can be largely eliminated if plump clean wheat is sown.

However, blasting of the heads cannot be entirely controlled by sowing clean seed because the spores of the fungus blow from corn stubble and refuse left in the field from the previous corn crop.

Where wheat is sown in corn stubble, more scab occurs than in other portions of the state.

Fifty per cent infected heads have been found where wheat followed corn, while in the same field where oats preceded wheat, only 8 per cent of the heads were affected.

Many farmers will remember that in 1946 and 1947 there were severe scab epidemics in parts of Ohio. The wheat scab fungus also causes scab of barley, oats, and rye and a root and ear rot of corn.

The ultimate control of this disease lies in the development of resistant varieties. Seed treatment helps to insure better stands, quality and yield, since it reduces seed decay and the seedling blight stage of this disease.

State Health Chief Blasts Cities for Water Pollution

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio Sewage and Industrial Waste Treatment Conference meeting here heard a sharp blast issued by Dr. Ralph Dwork, Ohio Health Director, concerning sewage treatment. He said:

Twenty-two Ohio cities aren't treating their sewage, a source of pollution in nearby rivers, streams and lakes. And 81 villages urgently need sewage plants.

Add to this 236 industries without adequate waste treatment, and "the continuing problem of obsolescence of existing municipal sewage plants," Dwork said, and "we can point the finger of shame at the things yet to be done in water pollution control."

However, the director said, 12 of the 22 cities have plans under construction "and several of the others, after long delay, finally are working toward such construction." But he said some will not be ready for years.

Less than a third of the 81 villages are building plants, Dwork declared, "and even though 163 of the 236 industries have installed partial treatment facilities (40 others are building), the fact remains that they are causing pollution serious enough to affect reasonable use of streams by others."

Dwork said he has no patience with claims that some industries are conducting research on the problem when no actual pollution controls have been established.

Over-all, the record is promising, the director emphasized. In less than 10 years, he said, Ohioans have purchased and erected more sewage treatment units than in the entire previous history of the state.

New Religious Sect Gains Good Foothold in Philippines

MANILA (AP)—A comparatively new religious sect has gained a firm foothold in the predominantly Roman Catholic Philippines.

Founded by a Filipino in 1914, the "Iglesia ni Cristo" (literally Church of Christ) has grown from a mere handful to the most aggressive and close-knit of Philippine religious minorities.

There are no up-to-date official records but Director Leon Maria Gonzales of the Bureau of Census and Statistics says the Iglesia's claim of a million members is "close to being correct."

Other religious sects in the Philippines include Protestants, Moslems, Buddhists and Jews but 84 per cent of the 23 million Filipinos are Roman Catholics. The top man of the Iglesia is Felix Manalo, 73-year-old former Protestant preacher who is looked upon by his followers as the source of salvation of their souls.

Manalo was a Seventh Day Adventist until he broke with the Adventist Central Office over doctrine and administrative policies. Then, it is claimed, he got a "message" from God.

It is told that after fasting for three days and nights to reassess his beliefs, Manalo decided to go out among the people and tell them of his message.

Basically, the Iglesia is a faith of the poor and middle class. It has neither priests nor saints. Even Manalo is titled merely "executive minister."

Its tenets are based on Revelations 7:1-3:

"And after these things, I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds, that the winds should not blow on the earth, nor on any sea nor on any tree.

"And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea.

"Saying, hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of God in their foreheads."

The Iglesia believes that the Big Four of World War I (Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau and Vittorio Orando) might have plunged the world into a "more disastrous war" were it not for the timely appearance of Manalo, the prophesied angel from the east.

The Iglesia holds services on Thursday and Sunday. Its rituals are simple. Service usually consists of hymns, a prayer, the sermon and more prayers. The Iglesia does not believe in communions or confessions.

Symbols of the rise of this aggressive new faith are its chapels, some 3,000 in various parts of the country. They are given to fanciful towers and flashy facades.

Miami University Adds New School of Science

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Establishment of a School of Applied Science at Miami University was announced today by President John D. Millett.

It will have three departments—industrial technology, home economics and pulp and paper chemistry.

The step sets up "separate administration and identification" for needs which Miami moved to meet a year ago in establishing a pulp and paper technology curriculum within its chemistry department.

Fathers Have It Tough, Too

There's none so poor in wit as not to venture a joke about Father's Day. Jokes about Mother's Day would be considered in bad taste, but about father—who won't mind—the flattest jest is judged to be fair enough.

The status of fatherhood need not, however, be regarded as all fun. To have a good father is to possess one of life's greatest blessings. To be a good father is one of life's supreme satisfactions. And under the changing standards of the times, to be a good father is downright difficult, for not alone must a living and home be provided, but wise counsel and firm, if sometimes subtle, control must be exercised lest the children, under the impact of all kinds of stimuli, get out of hand.

So father deserves the neckties, suspenders, belts and other modest gifts that will

Ulcer--Sign of Failure

Another cherished symbol of modern American life now must be discarded. The stomach ulcer no longer can be considered the mark of the successful man.

This is the conclusion that must be drawn if Kansas City men are typical of those elsewhere in the nation. Research by Community Studies Inc. of chronic ailments in KC shows that men promoted to managerial positions do not have as many stomach ulcers as those who almost made the grade in the job struggle.

The same is true of other chronic ailments be his on this paternal occasion. Perhaps it will be permitted to father to sit back, tied, suspended and belted, even smoking a gift cigar, and reflect on his own childhood. What was it like to be a boy, then?

"Then" can be anything from one decade ago to six, seven or eight. "Then," whenever it was, was fun. Being a boy is like being nothing else on earth. And being an American boy is being something special.

Some poets and prose writers have put that all too fleeting status into touching verses and stories. Do you mind if father, thinking of himself "then," thinking of his children now, uses that gift handkerchief to—well, let's put it that he's polishing his glasses?

ments of possible psychoneurotic origin—migraine headaches, sinus troubles, hay fever and diabetes.

Apparently it is not the tremendous drive of successful men that produces ulcers, but frustration of that drive by failure that does it. Of course, some men who are successful also are frustrated and they get success plus ulcers.

So, now the banter about "I'm working on my first ulcer" must be laid aside. Who would admit he was working to be a failure?

do it except that I didn't want to, and that wasn't good enough."

China Policy Pays Off

Americans traveling in Southeast Asia are told by natives that the situation in relation to Red China has changed altogether. Many Asians, formerly hostile to the U. S. China policy, are beginning to see sense in the American position from the point of view of their self-interest.

Communist attacks on the Quemoy Islands, the attempted red intervention in the Japanese elections, China's use of trade as a political weapon in Southeast Asia and the brutal action in Tibet all indicate to non-communist Asians that the Chinese reds are aggressive empire builders without regard to the welfare of other peoples.

Fact that the U. S. has stood firm in Formosa Strait and showed impressive strength to the Asians convinces them that the Americans are the only counter-balance available to an over-running of Asia by the reds. Free Asians know now that American policy aims to check communism everywhere.

American firmness is working well in one of the most populous and crucial of the world's areas.

Moses--True Public Servant

By George Sokolsky

The influence and authority which Robert Moses exercises is not parochial; it is national and international. His vision in the development of Niagara power, and his participation in the American phases of the St. Lawrence River development; his work in slum clearance in New York City and his role in the Lincoln Square development; his management of parks and parkways place him in the forefront of public servants.

He was never elected to office but holds simultaneously more positions than any man in the nation.

A native of New Haven, born 70 years ago, Moses has an academic education which includes an A.B. from Yale, a Ph.D. from Columbia and a B.A. from Oxford. He started his career on the Bureau of Municipal Research, one of the first efforts in the United States to study government scientifically and to apply scientific methods to government. Professor Charles A. Beard was active in its work and one of its officers, John Purroy Mitchell, became Mayor of New York City.

It can be said that the early, academic, theoretical Moses was transformed into a practical administrator through his association with Al Smith, one of the most competent and far-sighted Governors of New York State.

To the reformer Moses, Smith was at first only a Tammany politician, a fellow with a brown derby as a trade mark and a long cigar as an attraction. But it was not long before Moses discovered that this man of the people was a brilliant, far-seeing, selfless public servant.

When Smith became Governor of New York on Jan. 1, 1919, he appointed Moses to serve and manage a non-partisan commission to recommend reorganization of the state government. Surprisingly the work of this commission actually resulted in the revision of the state constitution and in the establishment of an efficient government.

In 1922, Moses prepared a plan for a state system of parks and in 1924, he was appointed Chairman of the State Council of Parks, a position which he still holds. He has also been New York City's Parks Commissioner for 25 years, expanding, improving, developing the park system, so that under his management, the park acreage increased from 14,000 to 285,000. He is also Chairman of the State Power Authority.

Undoubtedly the monuments to Robert Moses's vision will be the New York state system of beautifully landscaped and scientifically planned parkways, the creation of the summer playground, Jones Beach, Niagara and the St. Lawrence River power, the Triborough Bridge, the Coliseum in New York City and the Lincoln Square area which will be the greatest performing arts center in the world.

This is a constructive, creative personality who is constantly building and beautifying and whose work, no matter how large and widespread, is never touched by graft or corruption or waste so usual in public work.

I once asked Robert Moses how he can hold so many positions at the same time and yet be an advisor to city planners all over the world. His reply was: "No man can accomplish much alone. It is necessary to have honest, competent associates who know what they are about."

"Beauty and Utility" has been his motto and he has been able to accomplish his objective through a series of organizations which he heads. These are this one man's principal jobs: Commissioner of Parks, New York City; Construction Co-ordinator of New York City; Chairman, Mayor's Committee on Slum Clearance; Member, City Planning Commission; Chairman, Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority; President, Long Island State Park Commission; Chairman, State Council of Parks; Chairman, State Power Authority. For all this, he receives two salaries, $25,000 as New York City Parks Commissioner and $10,000 a year as Trustee of the Power Authority. Such a man could, of course, earn 10 times this salary in private enterprise.

The point of writing about Robert Moses and what he does is to show that despite the materialism of current American life there are still selfless men who serve the people, achieving great improvements in various fields without concern for private advantage.

BILL GOLD tells of a Washington couple who had a hard time finding a baby sitter for their 6-month-old twins. Finally had to settle for the 12-year-old daughter of a neighbor.

Came the evening of the baby-sitting, and the anxious mother had a parting instruction for her new employee. "Here," she said, "is the formula for the boy, and here is the one for the girl. If you have the slightest trouble, phone me at this number."

The sitter called at nine. "I've got the formulas all ready," she reported. "But why did you phone me?" asked the mother. There was a brief silence; then the baby sitter asked weakly, "Please, Mrs. Jones: which baby is the boy?"

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mental problems of Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana—and his insistence he doesn't belong in an asylum—turn a chilling spotlight on a far bigger but still unanswered question affecting the whole country.

How could a vice president of the United States take over from a president who became too physically or mentally disabled to carry out his duties but could not or would not admit it?

The Constitution isn't clear. The question has never been answered. In fact, Congress throughout American history has begged the question. President Eisenhower has asked Congress to provide an answer. So far it has ducked.

Long's family had him flown out of Louisiana by plane to a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex.—he says he was drugged and kidnapped—and the lieutenant governor took over, signing bills and otherwise acting as governor.

Now Long is fighting to get back inside Louisiana. If he does—even to enter a hospital—and then asserts himself as governor, who is governor? Long or the lieutenant governor? Under Louisiana law, the lieutenant governor can act only when the governor is outside the state.

But suppose a president became deranged—perhaps only slightly—but could not or would not admit it. How then could the vice president take over? Even when the president is out of the country he still is the president, and no one is authorized to step into his place.

No legal, fool-proof way has been produced yet to shove a president aside, no matter what the circumstances.

This is all the Constitution says: "In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president (but the Constitution doesn't say how or who decides on presidential disability) and the Congress may by law provide for the removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed (the Constitution doesn't say who decides this), or a president shall be elected."

So, although the Constitution clearly says Congress can lay down the method for getting a disabled president out of the White House, Congress has never done so.

The idea that Congress by a simple law could give the answer has been challenged, and on pretty good grounds: that if a vice president succeeded the president by simple act of Congress, it could be protested as unconstitutional and taken to the courts where it might face a long fight.

One way out of the dilemma would be for Congress to propose a constitutional amendment—requiring approval of two-thirds of House and Senate and three-fourths of the states—which would be far more binding than a law passed by Congress.

A Senate subcommittee has unanimously approved such an amendment—which has backing from both Eisenhower and some. Whether it will get action in Congress this year is very uncertain.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon made an agreement between themselves on what to do in case of Eisenhower disability. But it was based on mutual trust between these two men and has no binding effect on any future president or vice president.

For just that reason it is only a stop-gap device. Its legality has been questioned and would probably be challenged in court if it ever went into effect.

Under the agreement Nixon will decide whether Eisenhower— if unable to speak for himself—is to be disabled to act as president. Then Nixon will act for him. The word act in this is important.

Nixon won't take the oath of office as president. He will not become president. He will turn the job back to Eisenhower if the latter recovers. Eisenhower, not Nixon, will decide whether the president's disability has ended.

But suppose, when Eisenhower thought his disability was over, Nixon didn't. What then? No answer.

When this agreement was announced March 3, 1958, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, leader of the House Democrats, became critical at once. He argued that a vice president who attempted to carry out the president's duties must take the oath of office as president and, once he has done so, the elected but ailing president is out of office.

The then Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell insisted the Eisenhower-Nixon agreement was constitutional. But the immediate dispute over its legality was a clear warning of trouble ahead if Nixon ever did take over under this agreement.

The Senate subcommittee's proposed constitutional amendment would bring the president's cabinet into the act in deciding whether he was too disabled to carry out his duties—if he couldn't or wouldn't do it himself—and then Congress would have a hand in deciding whether his disability was over, if he thought it was but the vice president disagreed.

You're Telling Me!

Central Press Writer By WILLIAM RITT

Dr. Jean Barbizet of France probably figures he deserves a stretch of rest. The good doctor has been making a study of yawning. With a lot of other people, it's just the other way around.

Dr. Jean says that when a person yawns in your face, it's not fatigue, it's boredom. Or, maybe, he might just be trying to get a word in.

All carnivorous animals yawn. That, suggests Aitch Kay, is part of the meat of J. B.'s study.

Heretofore, the yawn has been considered as caused by physiological factors. The French savant, however, insists they're psychological. Apparently (and again we quote A. K.) there's quite a jump in the scientific study of the yawn.

Ho hum! All this palaver about yawning is getting boring. Let's turn to other less tiresome subjects:

Item 1—Gold is used as a cure for some 20 different diseases—Factographs. Including, naturally, financial ills?

Item 2—Junior has just read about that New Yorker who has quite a unique job. He taste tests candy makers' products. Bang! There goes Junior's ambition to become President!

Army Is Fussy About Potatoes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pfc. Andrew God Jr. has been acquitted by a court-martial that he wilfully destroyed government property.

God, an architect before he was drafted and assigned to nearby Ft. Myer, Va., disputed accusations that what he did was wasteful. The charge: Slicing eyes out of potatoes instead of digging them out with a knife.

The first visit of a member of Britain's royal family to Canada was in 1860 when the then Prince of Wales arrived at Montreal. Later he became King Edward VII.

Noisy Work Harmful to Ears

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Big city taxi drivers have a right to be grouchy. I'm not saying they are, mind you. I'm merely commenting that they are entitled to be.

So are riveters, boilermakers and others in similar noisy jobs.

For such persons, you see, are probably more subject to hearing difficulties than most of the rest of us. It's sort of an occupational hazard, I guess.

A series of very intense noises or loud sustained noise might permanently injure the tiny nerve endings and fibers of the inner ear. And, after all, how pleasant do you think you would be with a portion of your hearing ability lost?

I don't suppose too many cab drivers have such trouble and those who do probably take measures to correct it. But when it does occur, it almost always is in the left ear.

That's the ear battered by the screeching brakes, blaring horns and all the other sounds of traffic through the open window day after day.

But noise is only one cause of hearing loss. Continuous colds, allergies, obstructions, violent nose blowing, heredity, old age, a blow to the ear, severe diseases which affect the acoustic nerve and swimming in polluted water are others.

Impacted wax is one of the most common conditions in the outer ear which can cause hearing impairment. If neglected, this might lead to a permanent loss of hearing.

The ear drum itself might be damaged by abscesses, cleaning with a sharp instrument, diving too deeply or by ocean breakers hitting the ear.

For the middle ear, the greatest danger lies in infections, arthritis disease, a bony growth, dislocation or the presence of fluid which prevents the three little bones—hammer, anvil and stirrup—from operating.

Enlarged adenoids and tonsils are a common cause of trouble among children. They can plug the eustachian tube and cause a slight loss of hearing.

Old age is frequently responsible when hearing loss occurs in the inner ear. The nerve endings and fibers simply become less sensitive. Fortunately, a loss of this type is usually negligible.

It is here, also, that noise is a danger. Lack of certain vitamins was recently deemed another cause of inner ear hearing loss.

Question and Answer

Mrs. A. P.: For 12 years I've had a dizzy sensation and when I walk I keep pushing toward the left. Could this be something wrong with my ears?

Answer: This could be due to a disturbance of the internal ear. Consult an ear specialist.

Beans have a "sweet tooth" and are very destructive to saw-timber because they strip away bark of trees to get to the early spring sap in the trees. This makes useless the lower portions of a tree trunk.

Worship Every Week ---

Capital University Man To Give Lutheran Sermon

Duplicate worship services will be held in Trinity Lutheran Church this Fourth Sunday in Trinity day at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m.

U.S. Polio Total Still Ahead of '58

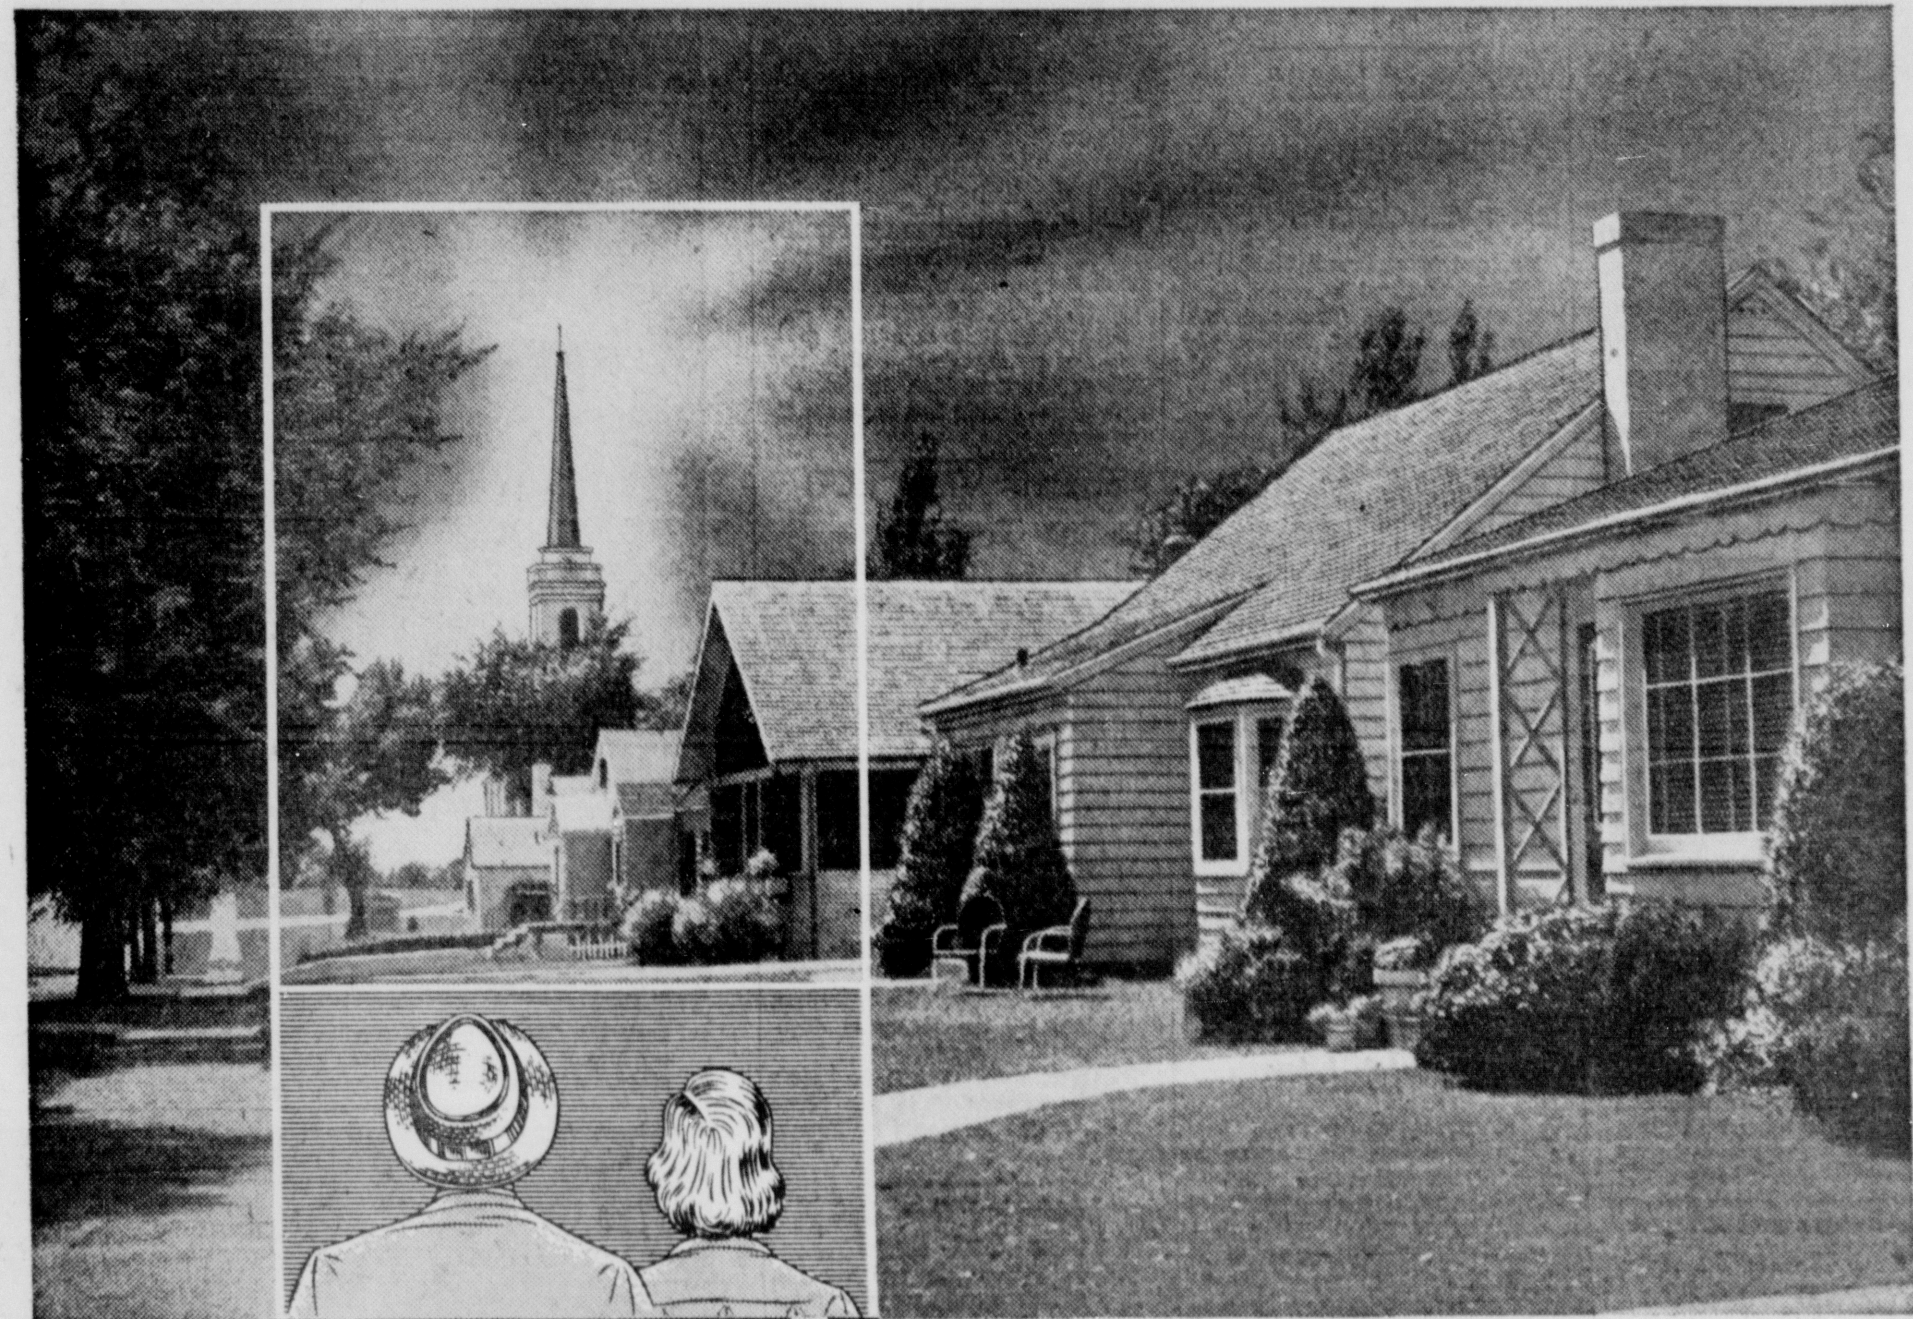

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases are continuing to run far ahead of the comparative 1958 figures, the Public Health Service said today.

There were 55 paralytic cases, last week compared with 25 in the same 1958 week and 36 in the week ended June 6.

For the polio disease year which began April 1 there had been 265 paralytic cases through June 13, compared with 128 a year earlier.

Since Jan. 1 there had been 452 cases as against 231 in the first 23 weeks of 1958.

Iowa reported the largest number of paralytic cases last week — nine. The cases were concentrated in the Des Moines area.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When I walk out of my front door, it always gives me a good feeling to see the spire of the church down the street.

A church spire makes you look upward. You have an irresistible urge to gaze at its highest point. It is a lofty symbol, the physical manifestation of an ideal.

Sometimes, when I step through my front door, my thoughts are on the "down" side. Then I look toward the church, my eyes travel to the sky, and I feel better, no matter what my troubles.

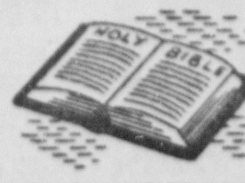

Next time you're near a church — try it and see. Better still, try going inside.

Woman Sentenced For Forgery to Finance Horses

CLEVELAND (AP)—Forgery which she admitted was done to finance a two-horse racing stable today sent Mrs. Delores Chesler, 31, to the Women's Reformatory at Marysville for one to 20 years. Judge Charles F. Carr sentenced the Euclid woman, a divorcee and mother of two children, on charges of obtaining $2,646 by checks forged against firms that employed her as a bookkeeper.

Mrs. Chesler said she thought she obtained around $8,000 during the 10 months she was bookkeeper and used much of that sum on the racing horses. She said the horses cost her $2,400 and she had been paying $700 a week in training, boarding and entry fees.

Other money, she said, went for furniture, clothes, and automobile, and a $900 attorney fee for her ex-husband, Arthur, who is awaiting trial in Philadelphia for a stabbing.

Ex-Bank Manager Admits Fraud in FHA Loan Cases

CLEVELAND (AP)—The former vice president and manager of the Avon Lake Branch of the Second Federal Savings and Loan Co. of Cleveland pleaded guilty today to making out an FHA loan to a fictitious buyer. He was given five years' probation.

Lamar McKinnon, 34, of Huron, father of three children, was charged with falsifying three FHA loans in 1956. The loans for property improvement added up to $4,700, the government charged.

McKinnon pleaded guilty to one count involving $1,600. His attorney, in appealing to Federal Judge James C. Connell for leniency, argued that McKinnon's $7,200-a-year salary was inadequate for him to maintain the standard of living his job required and that led him to falsify the loans.

Ohio Market Hog Price Averages 15c Higher

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prices paid for market hogs this week averaged 15 cents higher than last week, according to the Bureau of Markets. The average was $17.05 per 100 pounds.

Sow prices were about unchanged from last week, going from $12.50-$13.25 early this week to $13.00-$13.75 later.

For the first three weeks of June, the bureau reported, live No. 2 hog prices averaged $6.25 per 100 pounds less than in last year's comparable period. Yet retail prices as advertised by grocers are little different from a year ago.

Sad Sam Jones Is Hero; Hoists Giants into First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If you think Sam Jones is the hero of the hour now that San Francisco has shoved Milwaukee's Braves out of the National League lead, forget it. Sad Sam is the Giants' hero of the month.

It took Jackie Brandt's two-run single in the bottom of the 10th to put the Giants .006 percentage points and a half-game ahead with a 4-3 victory over the Braves Friday night, but it figures as the least they could do for Jones.

The big right-hander had given up two runs and five hits in the first three innings—then allowed only three hits the rest of the way. Two of those came in the 10th and two were by Billy Bruton, whose fifth homer gave Milwaukee a 3-2 edge in the top of the 10th.

Then the Giants chased Bob Buhl and ended Milwaukee's first-place stay that had begun May 13.

Ironically, it was Jones who was the loser when the Giant fell from first place May 5. And it was the loser when the Giants fell Milwaukee May 18, the day before the Braves took a 4½-game lead over the Giants.

Since then, a month to the day, the Giants have won 19—and Sad Sam has figured in more than a third of those victories. Now 8-6, Jones has won five of six decisions in that span and has added two saves in relief, having a hand in 7 of the 19 victories in the Giants comeback.

Third-place Pittsburgh closed within two games of the top with a 6-0 victory over St. Louis. Los Angeles rapped Cincinnati 6-2, and Philadelphia defeated Chicago's Cubs 8-7.

The Giants, who tied it 2-all on Jim Davenport's single, a walk and two force outs in the fifth, put it away after Buhl (6-5) walked Willie Mays leading off the 10th. Orlando Cepeda's only hit, a single, sent Willie scampering to third and chased Buhl. Reliever Don McMahon then walked Daryl Spencer, loading the bases for Brandt's third single.

Jones struck out nine and walked but three while giving a 3-1 season record against the Braves.

The Giants now have won three in a row, while the Braves have lost five of their last seven.

Vern Law (7-4) shut out the seventh-place Cardinals on four singles, two by Gino Cimoli. The Pirates, winning seven of their last nine, backed him with eight hits, including homers by Ramon Mejias and Dick Groat against rookie Dick Ricketts (0-2).

Duke Snider drove in four runs with a pair of homers for the Dodgers: His first, with two on, triggered a five-run first inning that handed Brooks Lambert (3-8) his seventh defeat in a row.

The Phils had homers from Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee while building a 7-2 lead, but needed an unearned run in the seventh to nail it. Gene Conley (4-3) won it, but gave way to relief after Ernie Banks' two-run, 19th homer in the sixth inning. Rookie Bob Anderson (3-6) was the loser.

The Yankees are back in business with the help of newcomer Jim Coates.

Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra had the clutch hits Friday night as the Yankees still fifth, closed within 2½ games of the top with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland's American League leading Indians.

But it was Coates who put it away. The big rookie, 26, nailed the opener of a four-game series with one-hit pitching for 3-1-3 shut-out innings in relief of injured Whitey Ford.

Coates came on after Ford, who blanked the Indians on four hits for four innings, gave way because of a sprained ankle in a tying, two-run sixth.

That rally ended with Minnie Minoso's thwarted theft of home and the Indians lost their second in a row after winning seven straight. They now have only a one-game lead over the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who are in a virtual tie for second.

The White Sox, idled by rain at Boston, have a .001 percentage point edge over the Orioles, who swept a two-night pair from Kansas City 8-2 and 2-0.

Detroit retained fourth place by beating Washington 6-4 in 11 innings.

Herb Score To Be Tossed At Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's Herb Score, twice a victim over the New York Yankees, tries to halt the world champions' winning streak at four games today at Yankee Stadium. Opposing him will be Duke Maas (4-4).

The hard-throwing left-hander (7-3) is the Indians' biggest winner.

Before a crowd of 52,509, the Yankees edged the Tribe 3-2 Friday night, getting the winning run through a throwing error by shortstop Woodie Held in the sixth inning. In the top half of the inning, Minnie Minoso was called out when he tried to steal home to break a 2-2 tie with two out and the bases loaded.

The Indians and the Yanks are all squared at four games apiece for the season. Four of the games have been decided by a single run. Friday night's game was a squeaker all the way.

A brilliant relief job by rookie

Savings Bank, Coca Cola Win First Games

Coca Cola won its first game of the 1959 Little League major league season with a 5-3 win over Ralston Purina and Circleville Savings Bank won its initial ball game with a 21-19 victory over Lincoln Plastic last night.

Coca Cola's Chester Iery twined a neat four-hitter to down previously unbeaten Purina. All four of Purina's hits were garnered by Ronnie Seward and Jeff Lutz. Each man hit a double.

Coca Cola smacked five its, all singles, bunting five runs in the first two innings to record all its scoring. Chet Iery had 2 for 3 to lead all Coke batters.

Iery weakened in the third inning, allowing two doubles to score three Purina runs, but then regained his strength to shut out his opponents the rest of the way.

THE QUICK moving game, over in one hour and 20 minutes saw winner Iery strike out 10 and walk three. Loser Lutz whiffed 10 and issued five walks. Four Purina errors threw a dent into Iery's effort for victory No. 1.

Chet Iery and Chester Hill each stole a base. Coca Cola committed one error. Each team now rests for the weekend with 1-1 records.

Savings Bank and Lincoln Plastic took one hour to complete their first inning with Savings Bank coming out on top, 11-10. After taking a 15-10 second inning lead, Savings fell under an eight-run Plastic onslaught to trail 18-15.

A six run outburst in the third inning led Savings Bank's first win, while Plastic was falling to its second straight defeat.

Savings Bank poked 10 hits to Plastic's six. Leading hitters were Savings Bank's Craig Lambert with 2 for 2 and Plastic's Sheldon McManies, 2 for 2, and Bowman Henry, 3 for 3.

McManies poked the only home run of the game, adding a double later in the contest. Savings Bank's Lambert and Johnny Young each slammed triples.

DOUBLES were registered by Plastic's Bill Pritchard, Bowman Henry, who hit two, and Savings Bank's Wayne Winer, John Young, Doug Roth and Joe Brannon.

Winning pitcher was Lambert and loser was Mac Bethel. Lambert fanned six and walked 16. He relieved D. J. Henry in the second inning. Henry fanned one and walked 10.

Loser Bethel whiffed two and walked two. Henry allowed two hits and Bethel gave up eight. Savings Bank committed one error to Plastic's, three.

Two games are on tap today in Ted Lewis Park. DuPont will battle Kiwanis at 3 p. m. on the softball diamond. Each team will be looking for its first win as both have been defeated by General Electric.

The second game of the evening finds undefeated Herald facing the Elks at 5:30 p. m. on the little diamond. The Elks will be looking for its first win.

Jim Coates—he gave up only one hit in 3-1-3 innings of scoreless pitching—nailed down the victory for New York.

Gary Bell, who had his record evened at 6-6 by the loss, held the Yanks to an infield single for four innings but New York scored two runs in the fifth.

After starter Whitey Ford opened with a single and was forced at second on a play that injured his ankle, Bell walked Norm Siebern, Mickey Mantle fled out and Yogi Berra rapped a single to right field. It was the veteran catcher's 1,200th run batted in.

Bell, struggling to conquer his wildness all night, then hit Bill Skowron with a pitch and uncorked a wild pitch which permitted Siebern to score.

The Indians counted all their runs in the sixth when they got three of their eight hits.

Van Camps' Steamin' Demon Takes Corona Trot at Yonkers

Steamin' Demon, pacer-turned-trotter owned by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Van Camp, turned in a sterling performance last night at Yonkers Raceway in New York to capture the $25,000 purse Corona Trot.

The Van Camp's famous five-year-old horse started like a champion and finished like a champion. With George Phalen at the reins, Steamin' made his move at the half, moved out in the lead in the far turn and came home 2½ lengths in front.

The winning time was 2:03 2/5. The solid trotter churned the last half in one minute and the last quarter in 29 seconds.

George Van Camp today said his prize trotter has earned a total of $26,980 in four season races, following last night's split of the $25,500 purse.

STEAMIN', an offspring by Demon Hanover - Cohchita, two years ago was a pacer, but his gait was changed. He was a consistent winner as a pacer and remains a solid choice as a trotter.

Trainer Horn, regarded by many as the best trotter in training, went off the 3 to 5 choice, but never was in contention last night as Steamin' pulled away at the half.

The local trotter was followed by Rich Colby and Something Special.

Aussie Leading Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) — Bruce Crampton, a good looking 23-year-old Australian, led the way into the third round of the Canadian Open today.

His two-day total of 135, nine under par for the Islesmere course, left him with only a one-stroke margin over three top pros from the United States. A half dozen others were within shooting range of the lead.

"I was putting quite well to day and I was driving well," Crampton said Friday after shooting a nifty 67 to take the tournament lead.

One stroke back at 136 as the 100 survivors went into the third round were Art Wall Jr., of Potomac Manor, Pa., PGA Champion Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif.

GE Sluggers Take 6-2 Tilt At McArthur

General Electric's Babe Ruth League baseball team won its third game in a row yesterday at McArthur, taking a 6-2 exhibition win over Austin Powder.

Big Sam Weller, making his first mound appearance, hurled a tight four-hitter in going the distance. He struckout five and walked only two.

Weller was backed up by seven bingles on the part of his teammates, including Ted Gulick's resounding triple which sailed far over the leftfielder's head.

Gulick, pasting the ball at a fast clip for the GE sluggers, was two for four for the day. Outfielder Granville Jones had two singles in two trips.

GE WASTED little time in scoring four runs in the first inning, one in the third and one in the seventh. The McArthur team marked a run in the second and one in the sixth.

Colley and Bates hurled for the Powder nine, with the loss going to starter Colley.

GE Manager Bob Maneely has called a practice session for his squad at 4 p. m. Monday at Ted Lewis Park.

Deeds Team Wins 2 More

The Lancaster Deeds Dairy American Legion baseball team cranked up two more wins this week, taking a 4-1 decision over Newark Wednesday and a 2-1 verdict over Zanesville Thursday.

Cal Ellis held down his regular shortstop position for the winners. Pitcher Joe Adkins rested during both games in preparation for a mound assignment tonight at Portsmouth. The Deeds team is slated for an overnight stay in the Ohio River City.

The two wins give Deeds a current 14-4 record for the season. Rugged opponents yet to be met include Bentley American Legion Post of Cincinnati and Western Hills, also of Cincinnati.

Hoyt Wilhelm, ace of the Baltimore staff, had a 4-9 record with the 1956 New York Giants.

BOY'S BLUE suit checked sport jacket,

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

That Egging Is No Yolk

DEAR ABBY: I've heard about some pretty impossible mothers-in-law, but I'll put mine up against any of them. Every time she sees my husband she tells him how "tired" he looks. She tells him (in front of me) that marriage has made an "old man" out of him.

The last straw was when she has a set of twin beds delivered to my house because she said I wasn't letting him get his rest. She said it was an "anniversary gift" and made a deal to trade in our big double bed, without our permission. The men just came and took away our double bed and moved in the twins.

She constantly compares me with his old "sweetheart." Yes, after 19 years I've been told this girl is still "waiting for him." Help me, Abby, before I put my fist right through her mouth.

DEAR END: The chatter about how "tired" your husband looks, and the "childhood sweetheart" should go into one ear and out the other, but her "gift" of the twin beds should go out the door. Tell your hubby that if she continues to egg you on, you won't be responsible for what you say... and that's no yolk.

DEAR ABBY: I am a well-to-do bachelor of 65. I met a young woman of 22 and asked her to marry me. I told her my right age. I am afraid that by telling her, my right age I ruined my chances with her. Would my chances have been better had I told her I was 55?

DEAR BACHELOR: Your chances probably would have been better had you told her you were 75!

DEAR ABBY: There are 5 kids in our family and when we go for a ride in the car everybody wants to sit by the windows. The older ones always win out and I have to take the younger ones on my lap to keep them quiet. I can't enjoy the ride myself for all this fussing. Is there a better way of keeping peace?

DEAR MOM: Before the ride have all the kids draw cards out of a deck. The highest cards get a "window." The next time, eliminate the ones who have sat by the windows, and so forth.

DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried woman of 34. I was lonely and thought I wanted to see something of life and have a little fun. I met a man, but his idea of "fun" and mine were not the same, so the fling was short. He informed me that with my notions I would remain an old maid for the rest of my life. I told him I certainly would and by preference if he was an example of what men were like. I was told that no man would consider buying a pair of shoes unless he tried them on first. I ask you!

DEAR ANGRY: Ask this man if he would go shopping in a second-hand store if he wanted a pair of shoes.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Connolly Quits As Xavier Coach

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Enquirer said today Harry W. (Mick) Connolly has resigned unexpectedly after four seasons as University.

Connolly refused to discuss the reasons for his action, but said Friday night he handed in his written resignation to the school's president. He gave no hint of future plans.

The Very Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, Xavier president, refused to say anything about Connolly's action, and would not confirm or deny the coach's statement.

Reports in recent months indicated friction between Connolly and the university administration.

Connolly's teams won 24 games and lost 15. Last season Xavier's record was 5-5.

Jets Lose Test To Red Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are some who toil long and reap small rewards. Such is Ben Flowers, a pitcher for Richmond in the International League.

Friday night, however, Flowers had a moment of glory.

Making his 12th start in the crucial Richmond—Buffalo series, Flowers won his first game of the season, limiting the league-leading Bisons to six hits as the Virginians won handily 5-0.

The 32-year-old right-hander's previous labors—73 innings of work—had netted him exactly three losses. But Flowers' clutch performance pushed him into the spotlight as he moved Richmond to within a half game of first place.

In other games Friday night, third-place Rochester had to go 12 innings before pulling out a 3-1 victory over Columbus and Montreal and Havana split a pair. The Royals won the first 5-0 and dropped the nightcap 7-3. Toronto and Miami were rained out.

Back to back home runs by pinch hitter Chuck Staniland and Charlie James off tiring Columbus starter Lyn Lovenguth gave the Rd Wings their extra inning victory. The Wings had tied it in the ninth on Wally Shannon's homer. It was the 12th loss in 16 games for the sixth-place Jets since they began their plunge from first on June 5.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee had baseball's longest hitting streak of the 1956 season. He hit safely in 25 straight games.
